46. Any constable may take into custody, without warrant, any person whom he shall find lying or loitering in any highway, yard, or other place during the night, that is to say the interval between 7 o'clock in the evening and 6 o'clock in the morning of the next succeeding day, and whom he shall have good cause to suspect of having committed, or being about to commit, any felony against this Act, and shall take such person, as soon as reasonably may be, before a Justice, to be dealt with according to law.

47. Every punishment and forfeiture by this Act imposed on any person maliciously committing any offence, whether the same be punishable upon indictment or upon summary conviction, shall equally apply and be enforced, whether the offence shall be from malice conceived against the owner of the property in respect of which it shall be committed, or otherwise.

to him personally, or by leaving the same at his usual place of abode), the Justices may either proceed to hear and determine the case ex parte, or issue a warrant for apprehending such person, and bringing him before themselves, or some other Justices; or the Justice before whom the charge shall be made may (if he shall so think fit) without any previous summons (unless where otherwise specially directed) issue such warrant, and the Justices before whom the person charged shall appear, or be brought, shall proceed to hear and determine the case.

Abettors in offences punishable on summary conviction.

52. Whosoever shall aid, abet, counsel, or procure the commission of any offence which is by this Act punishable on summary conviction, either for every time of its commission, or for the first and second time only, or for the first time only, shall, on summary conviction, be liable, for every first, second, or subsequent offence of aiding, abetting, counselling, or procuring, to the same forfeiture and punishment to which a person guilty of a first, second or subsequent offence, as a principal offender, is by this Act made liable.

Application of forfeitures and penalties upon summary conviction.

53. Every sum of money which shall be forfeited for the amount of any injury done shall be assessed in each case by the convicting Justices and shall be paid to the party aggrieved, except where he is unknown; and, in that case, such sum shall be applied in the same manner as a penalty; and every sum which shall be imposed as a penalty by any Justices, whether in addition to such amount or otherwise, shall be paid and applied in the same manner as other penalties recoverable before Justices are to be paid and applied in cases where the statute imposing the same contains no directions for the payment thereof to any person:

Provided, that where several persons shall join in the commission of the same offence, and shall, upon conviction thereof, each be adjudged to forfeit a sum equivalent to the amount of injury done, in every such case no further sum shall be paid to the party aggrieved than such value or amount, and the remaining sum or sums forfeited shall be applied in the same manner as any penalty imposed by Justices is hereinbefore directed to be applied.

54. Where any person shall be summarily convicted of any offence against this Act, and it shall be a first conviction, the Court may, if it shall so think fit, discharge the offender from his conviction, upon his making such satisfaction to the party aggrieved for damages and costs, or either of them, as shall be ascertained by the Court.

Justices may discharge offender in certain cases.

55. When any person convicted of any offence punishable upon summary conviction by virtue of this Act shall have paid the sum adjudged to be paid, together with costs under such conviction, or, shall have received a remission thereof, from the Crown, or shall have suffered the imprisonment awarded for non-payment thereof, or the imprisonment awarded in the first instance, or shall have been so discharged from his conviction by any Justices as aforesaid, he shall be released from all further or other proceedings for the same cause.

Conviction bar to further proceedings.

56. In all cases upon any summary conviction under this Act any person who shall think himself aggrieved by any such conviction may appeal.

Appeal.

57. No such conviction, or adjudication made on appeal therefrom shall be quashed for want of form, or be removed by certiorari into the Supreme Court, and no warrant of commitment shall be held void by reason of any defect peace.

58. Whenever any person shall be convicted of any indictable misdemeanour punishable under this Act, the Court may, if it think fit, in addition to, or in lieu of any of the punishments authorized by this Act, fine the offender, and require him to enter into his own recognizances, and to find sureties, both or either, for keeping the peace, and being of good behaviour; and in case of any felony punishable under this Act, the Court may, if it shall think fit, require the offender to enter into his own recognizances and to find sureties, both or either, for keeping the peace, in addition to any punishment by this Act authorized:

Provided, that no person shall be imprisoned under this section for not finding sureties for any period exceeding one year.

of mercy.

59. It shall be lawful for the Governor-General to extend the royal mercy to any person imprisoned by virtue of this Act, although he shall be imprisoned for non-payment of money to some person other than the Crown.
